Production Engine Remanufacturers Association Membership Requirements

To apply for membership in PERA you must qualify as either a supplier or remanufacturer, conduct your business in a manner consistent with the PERA Credo, and complete the application on the reverse side.

Associate/Supplier Members: Any person, partnership or corporation who is a manufacturer of automotive parts, equipment or supplies; or a manufacturers representative dealing in automotive parts, equipment, or supplies for automotive or industrial engines and who is currently supplying PERA members; or a member of the industry trade press, is eligible to become an associate/supplier member. Suppliers must observe minimum quality standards as standard operating procedure, must have a good reputation for quality of product and service in their market area, and must have been in business at least one year under their present organization. It would be helpful to attach a letter of recommendation from an existing PERA member.

PERA Credo

The Production Engine Remanufacturers Association is an association of individuals and firms who are remanufacturing internal combustion engines and their major components, or are supplying necessary components, supplies and equipment required in the remanufacturing process.

The goal of the association is to provide its members with the opportunity to exchange the ideas, methods and procedures necessary to efficiently produce remanufactured products which are equal or superior to their original in quality and performance.

PERA adheres to and supports the premise that its members are dedicated to the highest business ethics, customer satisfaction, employee consideration and to the continual upgrading of the Engine Remanufacturing Industry.
